ENGLISH

with

Games and Activities

with DIGITAL resources 1

Level A1 - A2

English with Games and Activities 1 in both digital and paper format, is aimed at learners who are studying English as a foreign language. The functional communicative approach helps learners to gradually acquire vocabulary for everyday use.

Each unit introduces approximately 20 words using pictures and audio recordings. The vocabulary is contextualised in a dialogue, then practiced in graded games and activities.

The solutions in the appendix encourage self-learning.

This volume is part of a series of 3 books, each of them reaching the following CEFR levels: Book 1: A1-A2 – Book 2: A2-B1 – Book 3: B1-B2.

2 Listen to the conversation.

Architect: Well, there it is. Your new home.

Mrs Jones: But... there's a problem!

Architect: What problem? Don't you like it?

Mrs Jones: Yes, it's a beautiful house, but...

Architect: Of course it's beautiful... when you open the door there is an entrance hall...

Mrs Jones: From there you can go into the kitchen and into the hallway which leads to the living room and study. It's certainly...

Architect: The bedrooms are upstairs, with the bathroom... and there is also a lovely terrace!

Mrs Jones: Yes, but...

Architect: You can see the garden from the windows.

Mrs Jones: That's true, but there's a problem!

Architect: Maybe it's the garage? Is it too small?

Mrs Jones: No, no...

Architect: Well, maybe the roof is the problem? Or you want to move a wall?

Mrs Jones: No, that's not it..., there's a basement, a ground floor and a first floor.

Architect: Of course, like lots of houses. So what's the problem?

Mrs Jones: Well... where are the stairs?
